

The Suitcase by thefourmonkeys (Little Monkey)

Scene One:

(((Scene in black and white, in a forest.)))

A boy picks up a suitcase off the ground.

MYSTICAL VOICE 1- Beware of this suitcase.

BOY- Why...? It's just a suitcase.

MYSTICAL VOICE 2- Be careful with your words, Henry.

BOY/HENRY(worried)- How.... how do you know my name?

MYSTICAL VOICE 3- We know all, Henry. So be careful with that suitcase. You don't know what's inside of it.

Henry puts down the suitcase and runs.

Scene two:

(((In full color, to show that it is years later. Instead of a forest, it is full of houses.)))

A little girl picks up the suitcase. She shakes it.

LITTLE GIRL- What could be inside here?

Footsteps are heard. Reveals an elderly man behind her.

ELDERLY MAN(voice wavers)- Oh my. I have been looking for that for years.

LITTLE GIRL- Do you know what's in it?

ELDERLY MAN- No, no, no. I was scared years ago by it... I never found out what was in it. I regretted not opening it ever since.

LITTLE GIRL(smiling)- You should open it now, Grandpa Henry.

ELDERLY MAN/HENRY(smiling back at her)- We shall open it together.

They open the suitcase, revealing absolutely nothing. Henry laughed.

LITTLE GIRL(confused)- Why are you laughing? There's nothing in it!

HENRY(chuckling)- Exactly! You see Emily, my greatest fear as a boy was the unknown, and I didn't know what could be lurking in this suitcase. It ended up being absolutely nothing!

Together they laugh, and end credits play.
